

Vocational training in Germany

Please go through the checklist for yourself and see if you meet all the requirements, could meet them, or identify what you still need. This checklist serves as a self-assessment and as an initial overview.

Requirements		The prerequisites mentioned here are basic requirements for vocational training in Germany.
Training position in Germany	<input type="radio"/>	A vocational training contract is available
You possess the requisite language skills required for the qualified vocational training (B1 level)	<input type="radio"/>	A language certificate (German B1 level)
Information		You must be able to cover your costs of living for the entire duration of your stay: in general, this means that you must provide evidence of having at least €903.00 per month (as of 2023) at your disposal. BUT If you plan on taking part in a company-based training programme, you will receive a training salary, which is also considered as evidence. If your training salary is not sufficient, you are allowed to compensate the difference by showing that you are in possession of either a blocked account or a declaration of commitment.